Ever so rarely it happens that a new band pops up out of nowhere and everything just makes perfect sense from the get go; the songs, the lyrics, the attitude. Even the band name could hardly have been better sorted. RUINED they call themselves and hardcore punk is what it is.

With credentials dating less than 6 months back and their first live show still waiting to happen, the Copenhagen based band needs a firm introduction. Not only is such a band presentation in place but it may also very well help to decipher why RUINED are truly making a musical impact with this their first release.

RUINED consists of Laurits Medom on vocals, Martin O$ on guitar, Jeppe Panzer Skouv on bass and Jeppe Munk Åkesson on drums. Between the 4 members they have collectively released over 10 full length albums and literally played hundreds and hundreds of live shows all over Europe. Once the lineup was installed and the mission set forth everything else fell into place instantly.

With band references such as The Psyke Project, As We Fight, Last Mile, Koldborn and The Hitchcocks the members all bring something special to the mix. And this diversity of references is, by all means, working in the band's favor.

The style is hardcore – no doubt. But with respectable nods to hardcore punk, metallic hardcore and crust RUINED are creating a solid fusion and a style of their own.

Their debut EP is entitled "RUINED" and offers 6 crushing tracks all recorded live. The lyrical content deals with that of deceit, frustration, anger and not fitting in; thereby offering a perfect backdrop to the stellar, short and uncompromising attacks. It's hard thrusting as fuck!
